

The Magic Paragraph

(Magically adds another vertical line to an N and then sometimes even flips it to the left)

Topic Sentence	Answer question in one sentence eg. The directors use dialogue to convey the idea that ...
Explanation	Explain how what you say in your topic sentence is seen in the text. Explain the idea further.
Evidence	Use quotes/visual language features to reinforce your argument. If discussing film, don't just say "lighting" – be specific about the type of lighting.
Relevance	State why your evidence is relevant. This is your "the director/author does this to show..." section.
Link	Relate your argument to a main idea present in the text. Remember, you can write about more than one main idea.
Link ² (Required for Excellence)	Personal response- What did the text help you to understand? Why is it important to you? Link your argument/idea to the wider world – Why is it relevant to the reader's world?

The Magic Paragraph

(Magically adds another vertical line to an N and then sometimes even flips it to the left)

Topic Sentence	Answer question in one sentence eg. The directors use dialogue to convey the idea that ...
Explanation	Explain how what you say in your topic sentence is seen in the text. Explain the idea further.
Evidence	Use quotes/visual language features to reinforce your argument. If discussing film, don't just say "lighting" – be specific about the type of lighting.
Relevance	State why your evidence is relevant. This is your "the director/author does this to show..." section.
Link	Relate your argument to a main idea present in the text. Remember, you can write about more than one main idea.
Link ² (Required for Excellence)	Personal response- What did the text help you to understand? Why is it important to you? Link your argument/idea to the wider world – Why is it relevant to the reader's world?

The Magic Paragraph

(Magically adds another vertical line to an N and then sometimes even flips it to the left)

Topic Sentence	Answer question in one sentence eg. The directors use dialogue to convey the idea that ...
Explanation	Explain how what you say in your topic sentence is seen in the text. Explain the idea further.
Evidence	Use quotes/visual language features to reinforce your argument. If discussing film, don't just say "lighting" – be specific about the type of lighting.
Relevance	State why your evidence is relevant. This is your "the director/author does this to show..." section.
Link	Relate your argument to a main idea present in the text. Remember, you can write about more than one main idea.
Link ² (Required for Excellence)	Personal response- What did the text help you to understand? Why is it important to you? Link your argument/idea to the wider world – Why is it relevant to the reader's world?

